Written by Marco Attard
10. 05. 2017

Como Audio announces a pair of follow-ups to the 2016 Solo and Duetto speakers-- the portable Amico and the CD player-equipped Musica, both featuring touchscreen control and wireless connectivity.

The Amico is the smaller of the two, with an interesting upright design. It pairs with devices via NFC, supports Bluetooth and wifi connectivity, and can handle online radio, Spotify Connect and even FM radio.

Pushing the audio are a 4-layer voice coil woofer and a dome tweeter. A built-in battery powers up to 8 hours of use on a single charge, while a 2.8-inch TFT touchscren provides control together with EQ adjustment and 6 presets.

On the other hand the Musica is the bigger option, with a 3.2-inch colour TFT and 8 preset options. It offers optical, USB, x2 auxiliary and ethernet ports together with NFC, wifi and Bluetooth connectivity, and supports online radio, Spotify Connect, Deezer, Napster and Amazon Music.

Interestingly the Musica also features a CD player, making it ideal for customers sticking with more traditional music formats. The chassis comes in either white, black or wood finishes.

Both Amico and Musica speakers hit the market on October 2017.

Go Como Audio