

AirPlay Audio From Logitech

The AirPlay speaker market gets a Logitech addition-- the UE Air Speaker, the first audio system from the company using the Apple wireless technology.

It streams uncompressed audio from either iDevices or laptops using available wifi networks and Logitech UE Air app.

Carrying a pair of tweeters and woofers, it also looks fairly good with subtle curves and a piano-black finish. A hideaway drawer also reveals an Apple dock connector, allowing users to either charge devices or play music from classic iPod models.
