

Honeywell's HDMI Line Driver

Written by Bob Snyder
19. 05. 2008

Honeywell ships a line driver designed for home theater installers using HDMI cables to transmit audio, video and communication signals. The CURxE Light technology diagnoses and corrects corrupted data on the HDCP and EDID channels.

The new line driver is HDMI v1.3 compliant and supports HDTV resolutions up to 1080p.

Go Line Driver