

Genesis Movie Server Gets 3D Support

Written by Marco Attard
27. 09. 2011

Fusion Research announces 3D Blu-ray support for the new Genesis Movie Server.

The company says it is not pushing to become "'an early adopter' of the technology," but instead took its time to develop its 3D experience.

The Genesis Media Server carries 4TB of storage capacity, and can handle up to x5 independent video streams (through x4 additional players). As well as Blu-ray playback and storage, it also supports the Boxee online streaming service.

Fusion Research will start rolling out 3D-supporting units from October 1st.

Go Fusion Servers Now Support 3D