Clare Controls announces the latest version of the ClareHome App-- version 6.0, now with a complete UI overhaul the company says includes a simplified and modernised look and feel.

With the update, users know more about what is going on in the home, thanks to revamped iconography, quick-access menus, security event logs and colours reflecting the active status of any device. Users can install the ClareHome App on Android tablets, as well as unpair any Z-Wave device using the app and the Claire CLIQ controller.

In addition, the Clare Install Assist mobile app for professional installers also gets an update. Key features include the ability to create project "Areas" for the home, a quick access help menu, security and performance optimisations, and bug fixes.
