

Electronic Partner Gets SmartHome Automation

Written by Marco Attard
13. 09. 2011

SmartHome home automation systems are now part of the Electronic Partner product range, following a joint distribution agreement with RWE Effizienz.

The SmartHome system as an easy to use wireless home automation solution, linking any number of appliances with a central control unit.

It also carries out intelligent heating control and comes with a number of security features, including smoke and motion detectors.

Previously customers could only get SmartHome systems over the internet or at RWE customer care centres.

Go RWE Effizienz and Electronic Partner Distribution Agreement