Vision develops a new mounting solution allowing the Techconnect connectivity system to be installed into Hager Tehalit BRN 13070 trunking.

Hager's trunking products are widely used in Germany. The new Vision product allows professional AV installers to integrate the full gamut of Techconnect modules, including the DisplayPort, Amplifier, and HDMI modules.

Vision has closely matched the Hager shape from the front to blend in with power sockets etc. Installers can use existing cables with the Techconnect faceplate, or Vision's cables plug into the back of the Techconnect modules via phoenix connectors allowing fast installation and easy serviceability.

Vision's new German faceplate system will be in stock late June. It will be available as individual parts or sold in a package with the same modules as Vision's Techconnect Lite package.

Vision products are distributed in the UK, Netherlands, Belgium, France, and Germany by TD
