On Controls announces the Quick Start Service-- a means for authorised installers to work more efficiently by having On Controls engineers program a custom Quick Start template for residential projects.

As the company puts it, Quick Start is an affordable means to leverage on the customisable nature of the On Controls automation platform and the power of the cloud in order to service clients more efficiently.

The service demands use of the On Controls SE7EN theme, while the interface requires an Apple iPad running on iOS 8.0 or higher. To take advantage of Quick Start installers simply need to provide requisite system specifications to On Controls. Once the programming team is finished the theme resides in the cloud, making it accessible by simply syncing all applicable iPads on the network.

On Controls dealers using Quick Start can integrate related costs into each project, and once a Quick Start template is programmed it can be saved and used in other projects at no extra cost (so long additional support is not required).

Installers can also upload a pre-programmed control solution to their iPad to easily demo SE7EN theme features and functionality to prospective clients.
