Savant enables customers to personalise each Pro Remote by room or by user, with the configuration of the native voice button for Siri voice activation as well as personalisation of the touchscreen.

With the latest Savant release, users can select from all available Savant Scenes, Services and Favourite Channels, and add the ones they most frequently use to the home screen. Users can set up a home screen particular to the functionality of each room or create a home screen specific to each user.

In addition, customers get access to Siri-based voice control of Apple TV using the Pro Remote. Users can push the microphone button to ask Siri to find a movie, album, artist, playlist or streaming service. Such a user-activated approach allows installers to deliver the convenience of voice command functionality to clients who prefer the security of a voice agent that is not always listening.

The Savant Pro Remote and above mentioned features are available now.
