The Premier SYM-PA pipe adapter allows installers to suspend displays from the ceiling, for single-side or back-to-back displays, and uses the SYM-PAC pipe adapter cover to add an appealing aesthetic.

According to the company the Symmetry Line is a configurable solution able to reduce installation times by over 40% compared to single display mounting solutions. Designed for single and multi-site deployments, the adapter is easy to install, with a 2-component design using an interface bar and a set of display brackets.

Six-point (x,y,z) precise adjustment features allow for easy display alignment, while a built-in service kickstand allows 9-degree access.
