Vision has a pair of flat-panel wall arm mounts both promising to be stronger, more maneuverable and lower cost than the products they replace. Available in a white colour, they help the brackets disappear against white walls.

Both mounts are built out of 2.5mm cold-rolled steel, allowing for increased tensile strength and finer surface tolerance. The VFM-WA2X2v2 takes VESA sizes up to 200x200, and the WA4X4v2 takes sizes up to 400x400. Both have a 402mm reach, -2-12° tilt and 90° swivel adjustment. To help with installations, the mounts have 6° of rotation in case the wall bracket is not fixed plumb.

The two mounts are shipping now, and come with a lifetime warranty.
