Elite Screens launches a portable free-standing projection screen ideal for customers making use of pico projectors-- the PicoScreen.

The PicoScreen carries Elite's Maxwhite 1.1 gain matte white projection screen material, which the company says has a wide viewing angle.

Stability comes through rotating base feet, while a self-locking cross riser and scissor-back design allows one to pull it out of its metal casing and easy setup.

It comes in 4:3 aspect ratio in either 25", 35" or 45" sizes, in a package that also includes a durable fabric carry case.
