The CEDIA Home Technology Awards honour the best of the industry in all aspects, be it design, installation and commissioning-- and now the organisation presents the technical judges for the 2018 CEDIA Awards.

“The CEDIA Awards are always a highlight in the industry calendar,” CEDIA president and CEO Tabatha O'Connor says. “Our dedicated team of volunteers and staff work hard year over year to encourage members from across the globe to enter their projects, and we're delighted to have so many new companies engaging with the program for the first time.”

Judging for the Awards takes place on June, with the list of finalists announced shortly thereafter. Judging panels are broken out by region, and the Chair and Vice Chair from each judging panel select the Global Awards Winners.
