FX Luminaire launches the BQ-- an LED fixture designed to withstand outdoor elements, as well as meet the needs of customers looking for high-quality lighting to illuminate outdoor grilling areas and cooking surfaces.

It completes the hardscape lighting plan, providing what the company describes as a seamless look for outdoor kitchens.

Grilling area illumination comes through bright 1 LED task lighting. Construction is in 304 stainless steel, and it mounts directly into the outdoor counter surface material with a threaded rod and hand wing nut mount.

Installers can integrate the BQ with Luxor systems, or operate it independently via optional plug-in transformer.
