HDBaseT Alliance Certifies Further

Written by Marco Attard
21. 06. 2011

The HDBaseT Alliance announces the release of its 1.0 certification program, as well as the release of the first HDBaseT certified product.

The program provides alliance members with a formal framework ensuring interoperability for current and future products with an approved baseline HDBaseT functionality.

The first HDBaset certified product is Gefen's HDMI 1.3 over CAT5 Extender. Gefen already has a number of products supporting HDBaseT technology.

This week also sees another first for the HDBaseT Alliance-- the opening of its first recognised test facility, located in Israel.

Go HDBaseT Alliance Announces 1.0 Certification Program